Dedication

The 2000-2001 yearbook staff would like to dedicate this year's Mirror to a very special Woman. She works very hard to begin childrens' education. Whether she is reading to them or helping them read, teaching them to tie a shoe or how to share a ball, she has a smile on her face. She allows everyone into her class room. She can bring a smile to the youngest kids, the oldest ones, and the rest of the faculty. Linda Wood's work as an educator and friend to many will never go unnoticed. Thank you very much for all you have given this school.

*In Loving Memory of Martín J.
“Mac” McCarty*

This winter a man who meant so much to the North Shore community passed away. Mac McCarty, as he was always called, was more than a coach or an educator. He taught everyone who ever came to or visited North Shore the importance of commitment. He served this community for more than 50 years. In that time he was a teacher, where he was voted Educator of the Year in 1982. He coached baseball, football, and basketball, where he had more than numerous victories against other teams, he also accomplished building teams that worked together. Mac was the only coach in the country to be elected in to three hall of fames: football, basketball, and baseball. Mac came to more football games at North Shore than anyone else, and his input and cheers will be missed. The community had a great loss, but to honor him we will continue to strive for a wonderful community that teaches, helps, and cares for each other. "Mac was successful because he was Mac-an Original. Who but Mac could be at the same time passionate about football and also passionate about dancing; be blunt and direct, yet be thoughtful and sensitive; be modest yet so comfortable accepting compliments."

Special Events

Homecoming

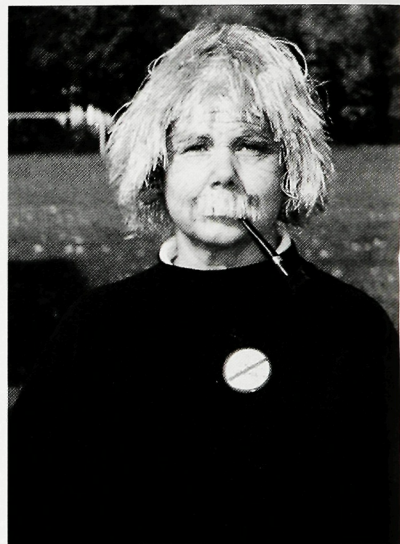

Homecoming this year was full with spirit. From the beginning of the week to the homecoming dance, people were having fun. The most fun though was had Friday night, the bonfire, and during Saturday's sporting events. Students, faculty and alumni filled the school with spirit.

Interim Week

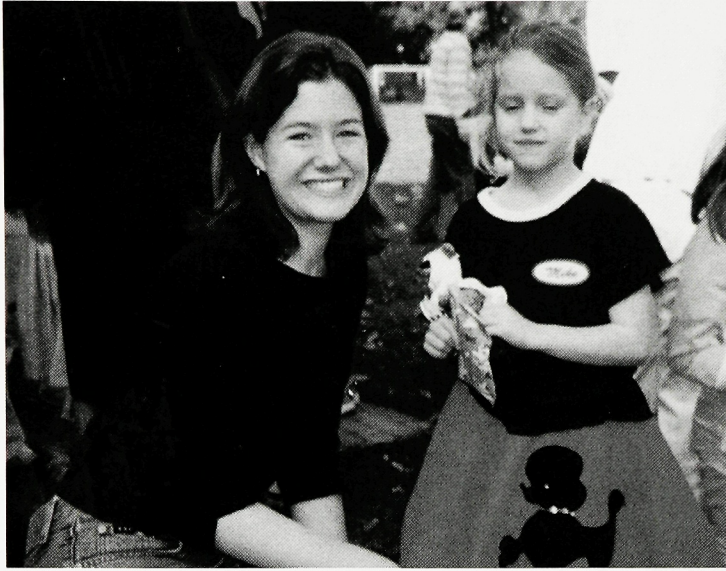

Students had a lot of fun this year over Interim. There were many different experiences. They ranged from a trip to New York City to see many theatrical performances, to cooking chinese food, to doing a week of service at different places around the Chicagoland area. It was a great week for students and teachers to learn and teach outside of the classroom.

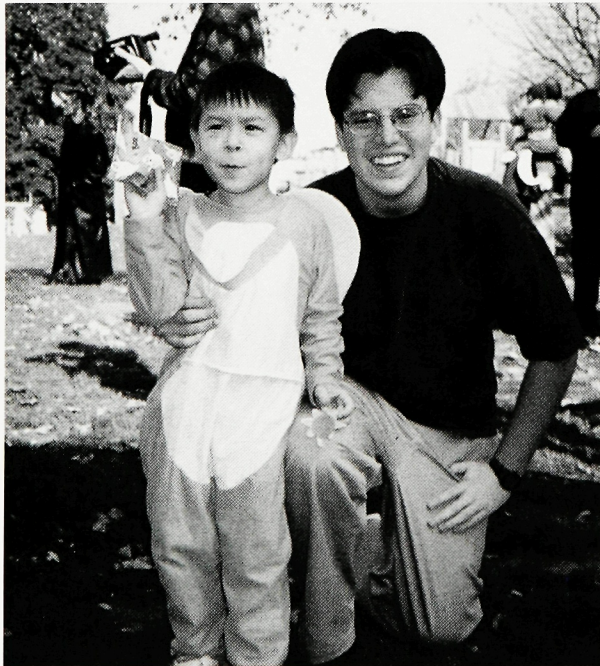

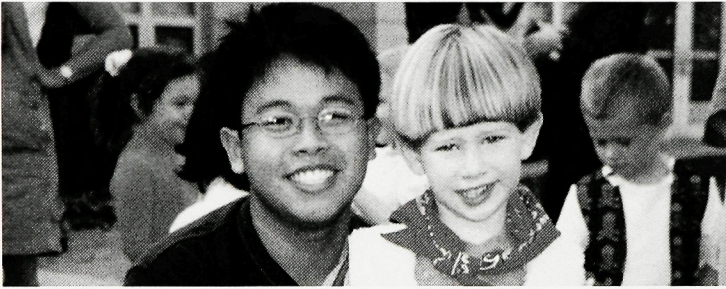

Interim Week

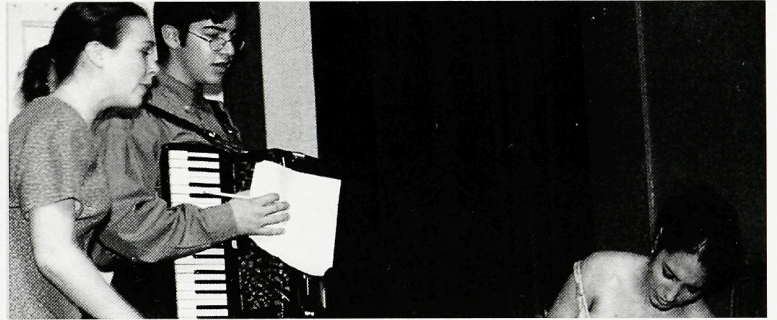

The Kindergartners and seniors had a great time getting to know each other this year. Whether it was pumpkin picking, playing on the playground, doing the "hokey pokey" or sitting with their buddies at Morning Ex, a fun time was had by all. Next year the seniors and Kindergartners will miss seeing and playing with each other.

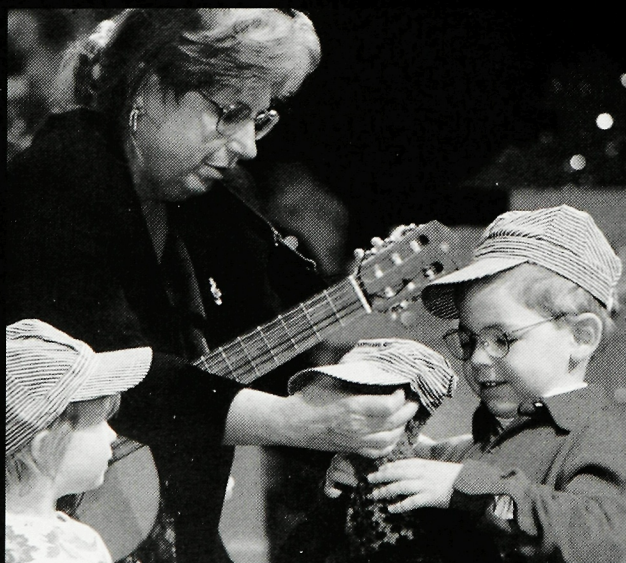

Buddies

FALL PLAY

During the fall, the North Shore Country Day School chose to do a comedy called "You Can't Take It With You." It was funny, very, very funny. And just because I was in it does not mean I am biased. I know funny when I see it. Nate Flint was a Russian ballet teacher; (Vicki) was a drunken actress.

Now imagine that, you're laughing aren't you? That's because it was funny.

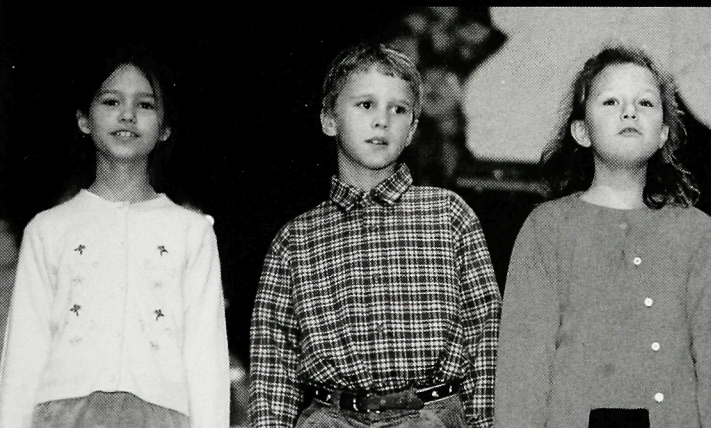

Holiday Morning Ex

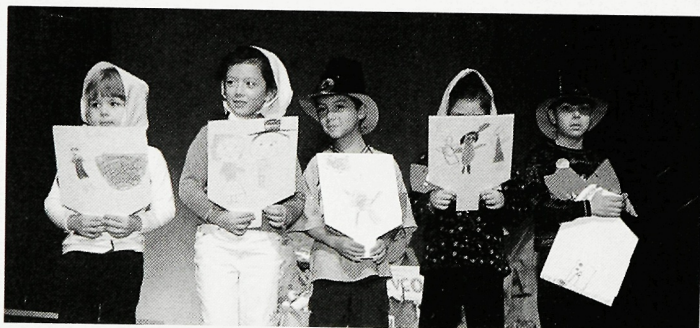

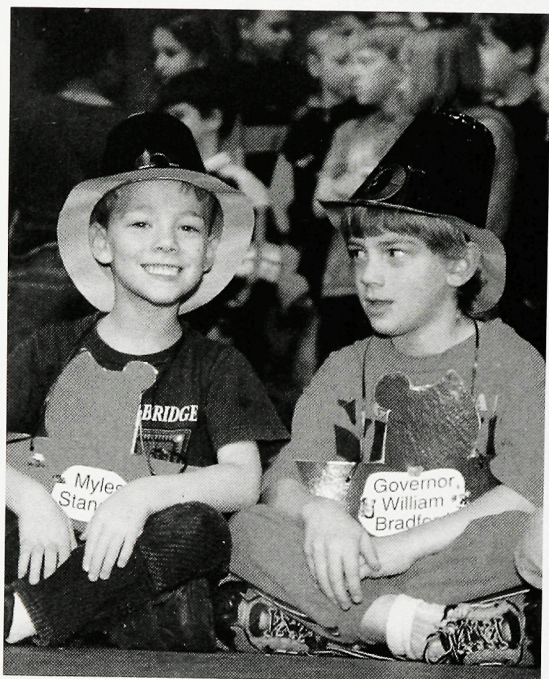

The holiday MEx, put on by the lower school, was quite entertaining. It included beautiful music from various religions throughout the North Shore community.

Lower schoolers sang, acted and announced the next act as the large audience watched the festivities. There were many beaming parents, cam corder in hand, that came to cheer on their children.

All who paricipated deserve a round of applause.

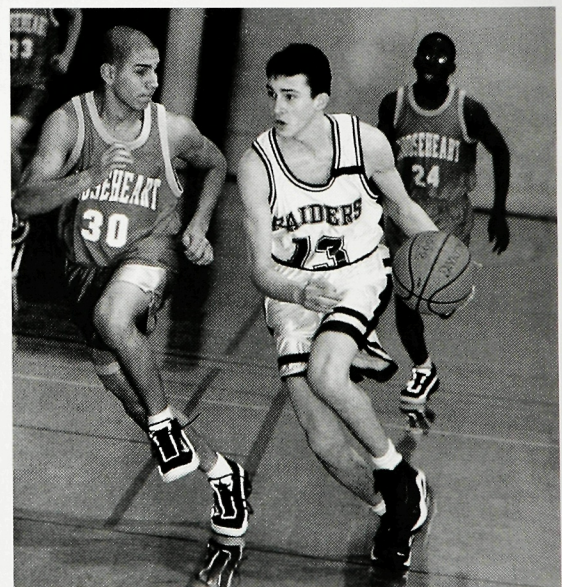

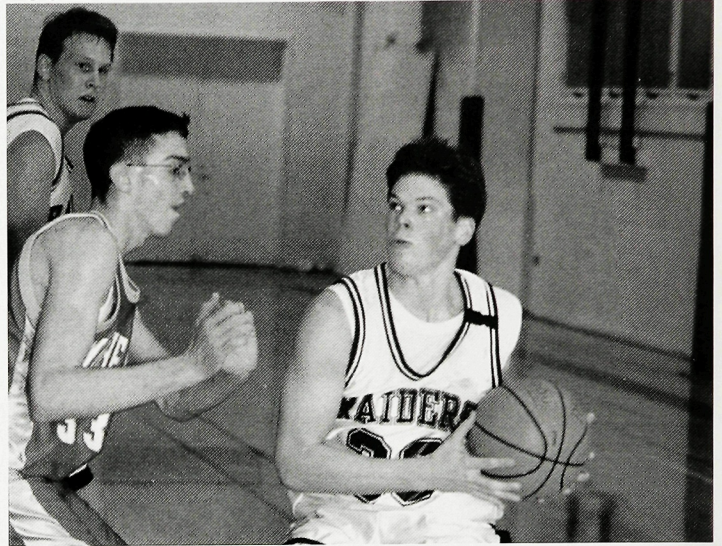

Celebration

Anxious to get to their sunny destinations, students danced their way around the Mac Gym floor. The program was filled with exotic pieces from all over the world. Santa joined North Shore once again in the distinctive and traditional celebration of the holiday season. There was quite a wide array of dancers, for even the little junior kindergarteners were able to be in the production.

Basketball Bash

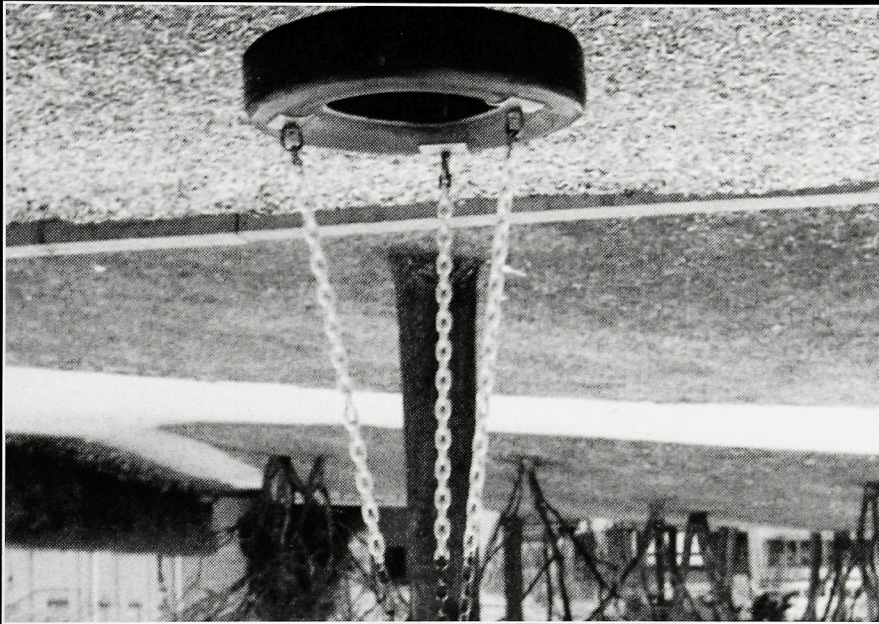

Basketball Bash

January 2001's Basketball Bash was a success. Teams from the middle and upper school participated in a day full of school spirit and competition. With many wins, the North Shore spirit really shone through. Thanks to Mr. McHugh and the athletic staff, the day was a tremendous success that was made even more special by refreshments and half time games. The players from Moosehart and North Shore were very sportsmanlike during the victories and defeats. The basketball teams of North Shore deserve many congrats for a job well done.

Organizations

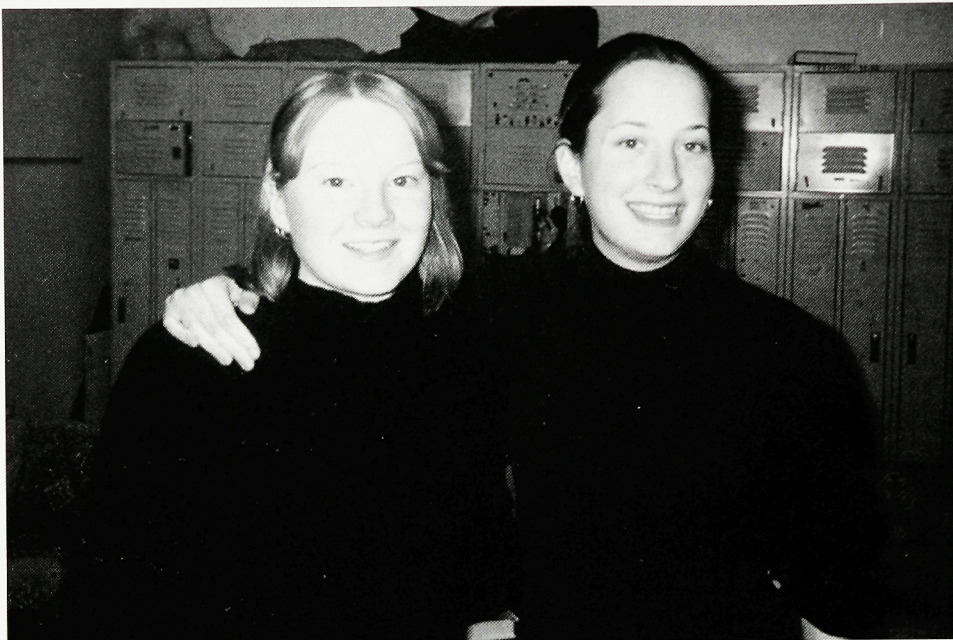

Organizations

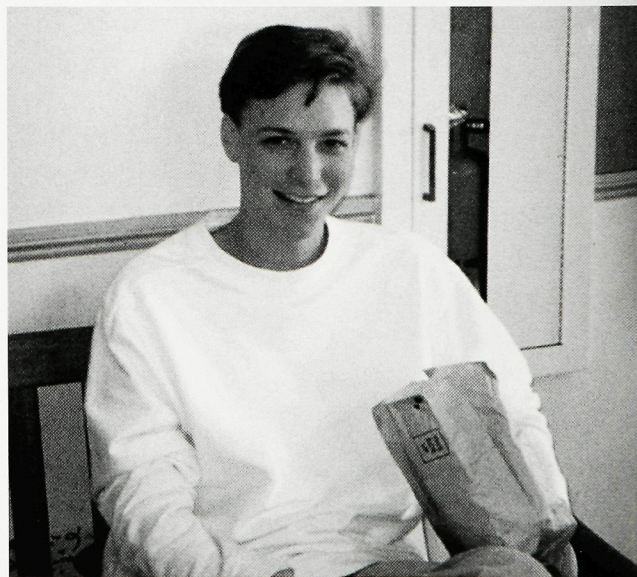

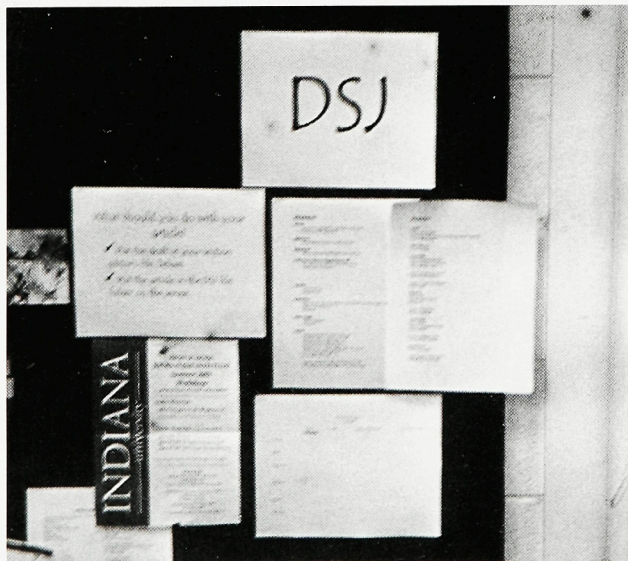

Tori Cavanaugh, Christine Castilla, Naomi Hattatori, Krista Jablonski, and Andrea Livolsi

The yearbook is finally finished! The whole staff put in an extremely large amount of work. The work of each editor did not go unappreciated. Andrea Livolsi and Krista Jablonski did a great job at getting pictures done, especially when we were in a jam to finish a deadline. The rest of the photography staff also were dependable and took good photos. Naomi Hattori and Christine Castilla were great at writing clever copy, even though they worked without a staff. Haley Birnbaum was great at helping on layout when ever there was a crunch for a deadline. There was also the Editor-In-Chief, Tori Cavanaugh, who bore long hours at school and home to finish this year's Mirror. The staff would also like to thank Mr. Smith, Mrs. Grauberger, and Mrs. Lockhart for their help and time they devoted to the yearbook. Your work is very appreciated. It was a tough job, but this year's staff were the right people for the job.

The Diller Street Journal

DSJ, the Diller Street Journal, is a periodical produced by North Shore students. It is a quality piece of writing that consists of opinions and factual articles. The participants of this journal work at it very hard, going to each Tuesday meeting and staying at North Shore until all hours of the night laying out each paper. The DSJers are dedicated to their periodical literary works. Hats off, DSJers, for your hard work.

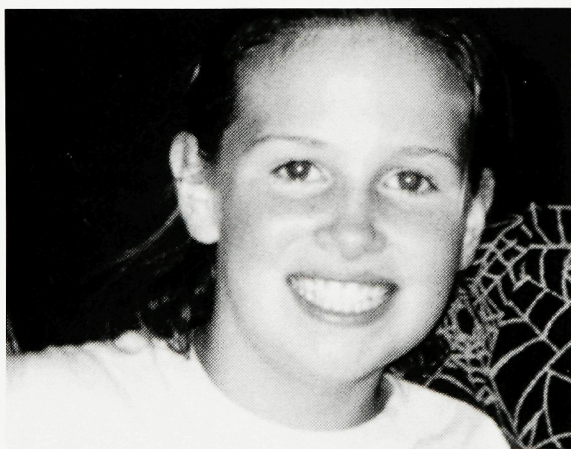

P r o s o d y

Prosody, North Shore's literary magazine, was a challenge to complete. It took months of hard work on the part of teachers and students to compile this book of artwork, poems, stories and other literature produced within the North Shore community. Prosody comes out in late May, and is always well-received by the teachers, parents, students and others outside North Shore.

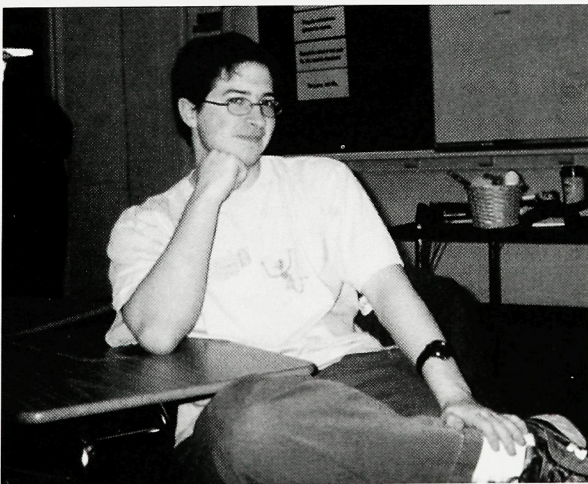

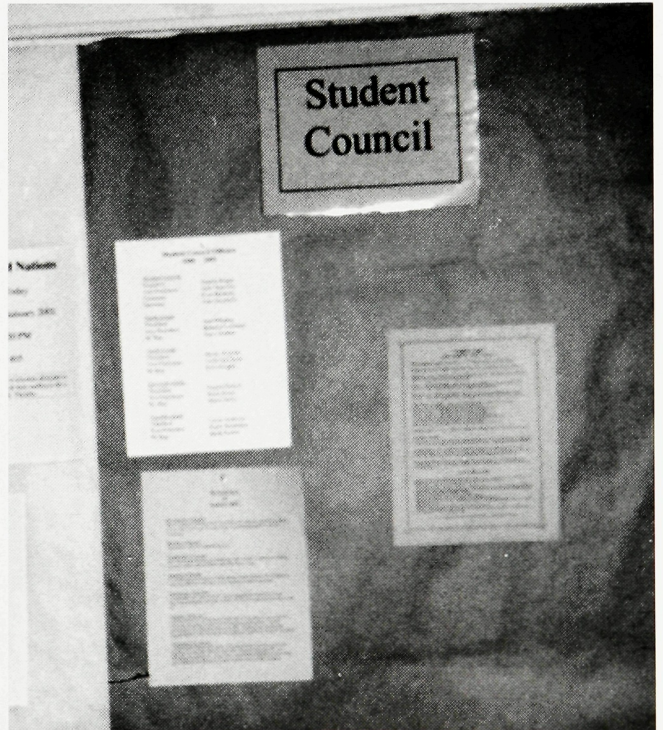

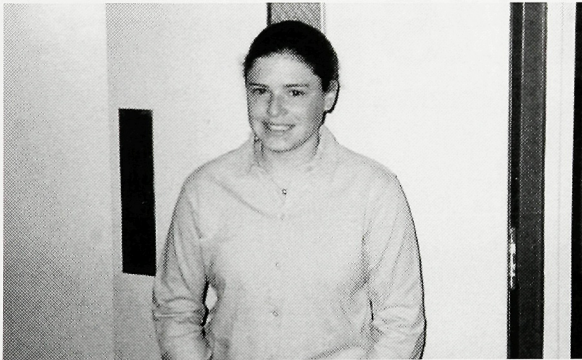

M S S t u d e n t C L U B S

The Middle School was involved with many different organizations. They have their own student council where they plan their upcoming events, an orchestra led by Mr. Rich, chorus and community chorus. Clubs in the middle school teach students how to be leaders and prepare them for high school.

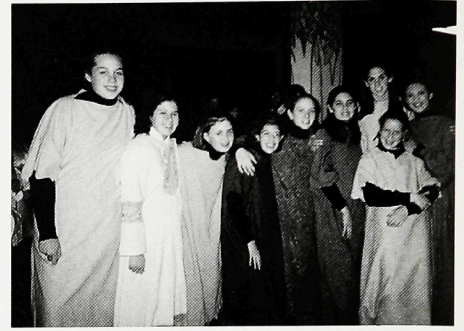

US Student Council

The Student Council meets every Monday during lunch to organize school events. It is comprised of three members from each grade and the executive council. Together they tackle school issues brought forth by students, faculty, and parents.

Chorus was filled with many excitements this year. The chorus performed the Madrigal feast, an every-other year event, in December, and performed a coronation mass, composed by Mozart, in the spring. Both new members and veterans all had fun.

Chorus

Pillows

Poetry In the Lives of Literary Students

This year we had Talia, Leigh, and Jessica leading us in some very successful meetings. Pillows meets several times a year, students can share poetry they enjoy, or that they have written. Great food and great times are always available on certain Friday nights from 8 to 11.

Community Service

There are countless activities that the community service club heads up, including working in many soup kitchens and serving hot chocolate in the winter. It tries to meet each week with the goal to uphold the ideals of North Shore's motto, "Live and Serve," and the sense of reaching out to the outlying areas. Community service is an important program to all those at North Shore; it teaches us what we may not learn in any classroom.

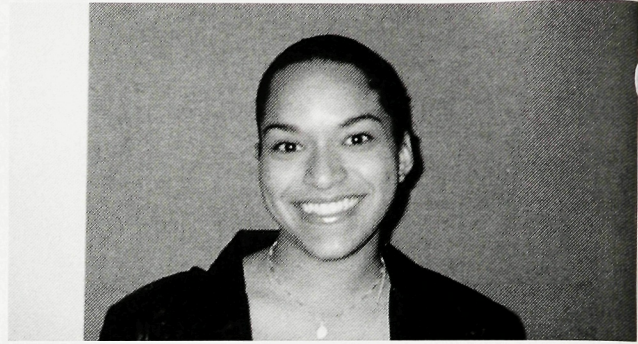

Model United Nations

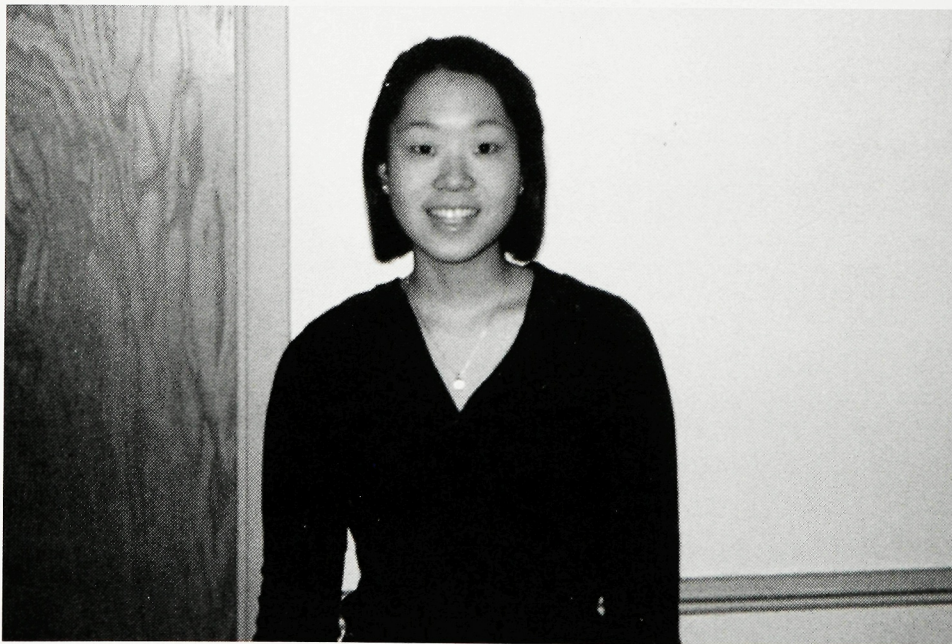

Model UN has moved a long way since the beginning of the club. Members now participate with other students in a long weekend mock UN that take place at Harvard and the University of Chicago. The students involved have a fun time at these conferences and at their weekly meetings.

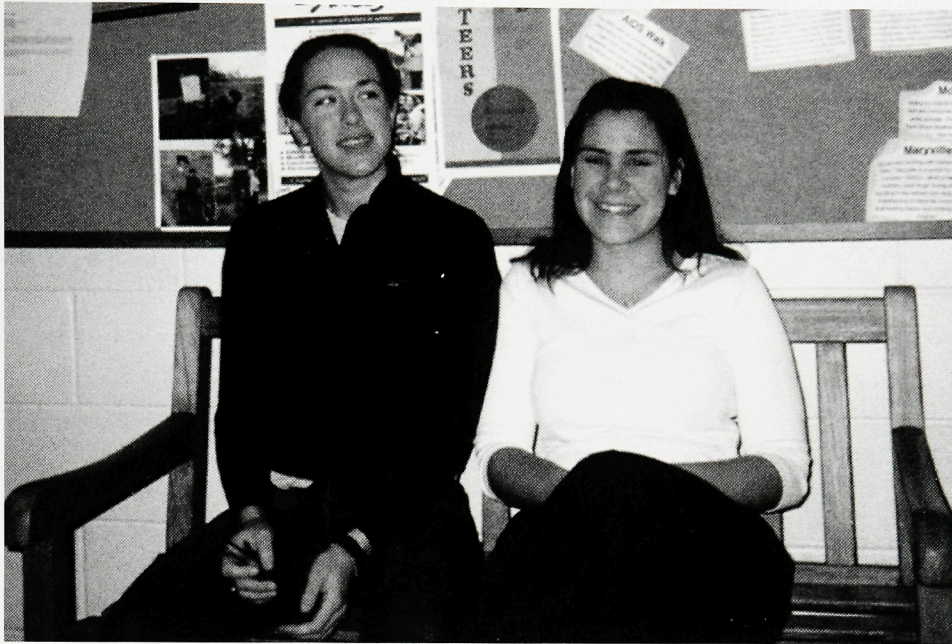

The international club, which was formed by a group of students who wanted to discuss being from a foreign country and expose others to their home country and culture, has become very popular. The club holds regular meetings and hosted dinners that welcomed all students. It was a great way to expose North Shore students to new things.

International Club

Environmental Club

Although small, the environmental club tries its hardest to show North Shore how to help protect the environment. They have made sure there are recycling bins in each room, and they have tried to teach people what products go in to them. The club works very hard to think of ways to teach the importance of protecting the environment.

Athletics

Athletics

US Volley Ball

This year the volleyball team had a successful season. The team really bonded, both on the court and off. Our record may not have proved it, but there was a lot of talent. Next year, the varsity team will miss their Seniors but the new team will look to the two remaining Varsity Juniors for leadership.

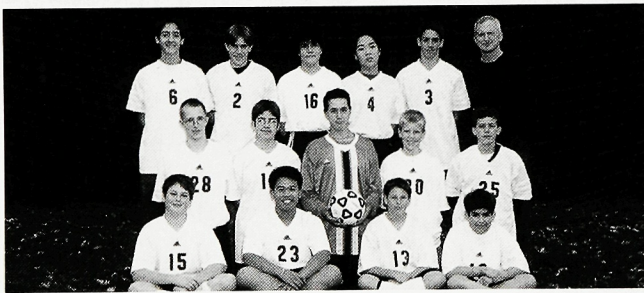

The field hockey team experienced a lot of success this season. Once again they made it to the elite eight in the state tournament. We look forward to seeing a strong team next year.

US Field Hockey

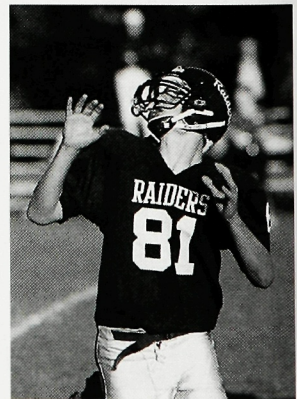

This year's soccer had a great season. They started the season off with hosting a tournament. They continued to improve throughout the season.

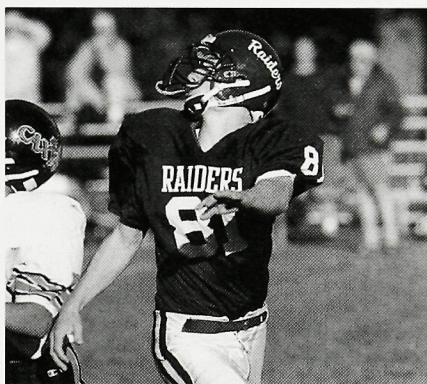

US Soccer

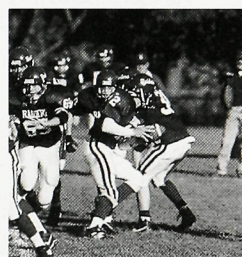

US Football

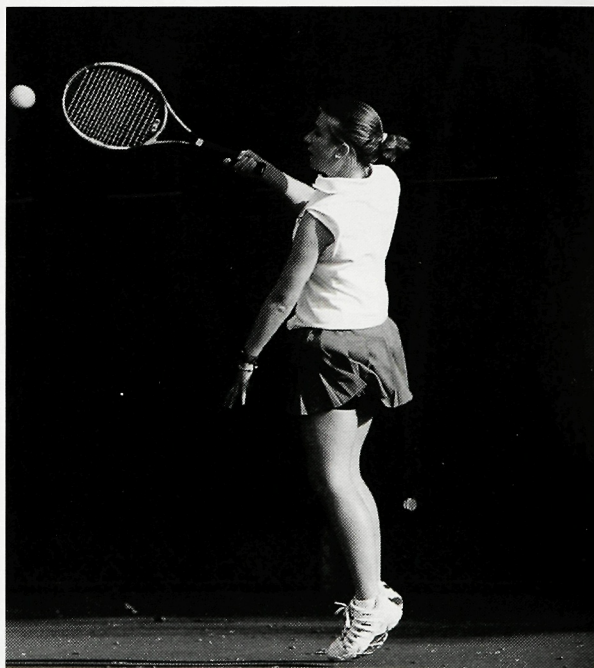

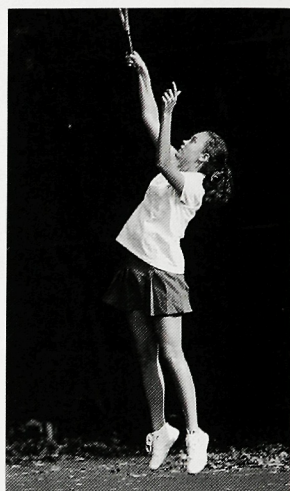

After a state-qualifying 9-2 record from 1999, the 2000 Raider Football Team put together an admirable 5-4 record. One victory away from a playoff bid. This year's team overcame the obstacle of losing nine starters from the playoff team of last year. Their biggest game was a come-from-behind victory against Sherland Lutheran. Nathan Vojta, Nick Fera, and P.J. Olson, led the team, with a combined eight touchdowns, and 200 tackles.

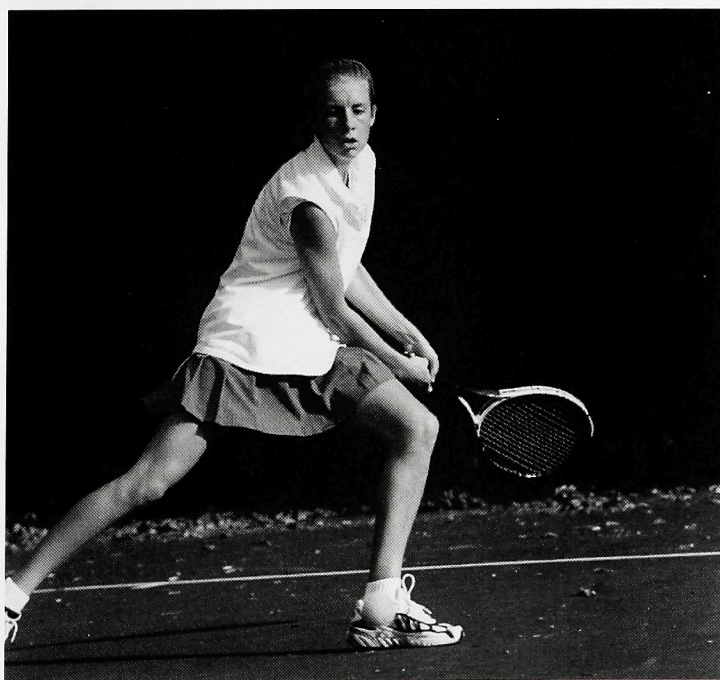

Upper School Tennis

This year was the best turnout that the tennis team has ever had. For the last two years the tennis team has not had enough players to make up a whole squad. Now they have the problem of choosing who should and should not play. In the league tournament, Naomi Hattori (first singles) and Jaime Powers and Kristin Rooney (first doubles) both placed fourth. The future looks very bright for this team. Watch out next fall for the big things that are to come.

Middle School Field Hockey

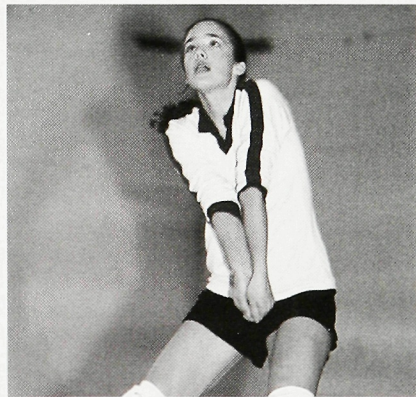

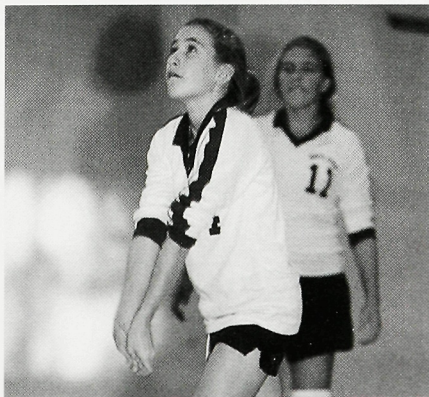

Middle School Field Hockey had a good season this fall. They continued to improve their skills and came together as a team.

Middle School Volleyball

The volleyball team had a lot of fun this season. They became better players and that was reflected in their wins and losses.

Middle School Football

The football team was a combination of all three grades this year. This allowed some of the younger and inexperienced players to learn from the older player. We hope to see big things from these football players in the future.

The soccer team welcomed both new players and a coach this season. They enjoyed playing in games and improved their skills. They look forward to having another great season next year.

Middle School Soccer

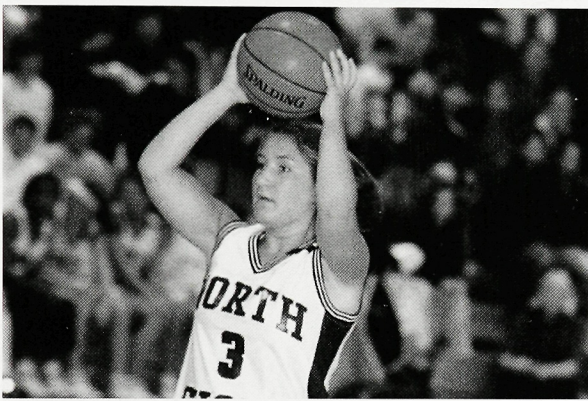

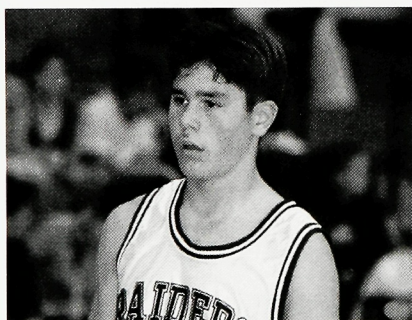

Upper School Girls Basketball

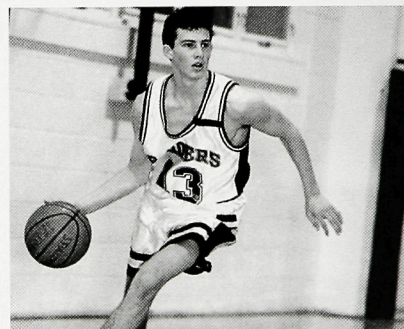

The Upper School girls basketball players had a challenging year that brought the team together both on and off the court. Always trying their hardest at practice and during games, this team can be commended for some crowd-stomping action and terrific wins. There were no seniors on the team, so the players were all looking forward to playing together again next year.

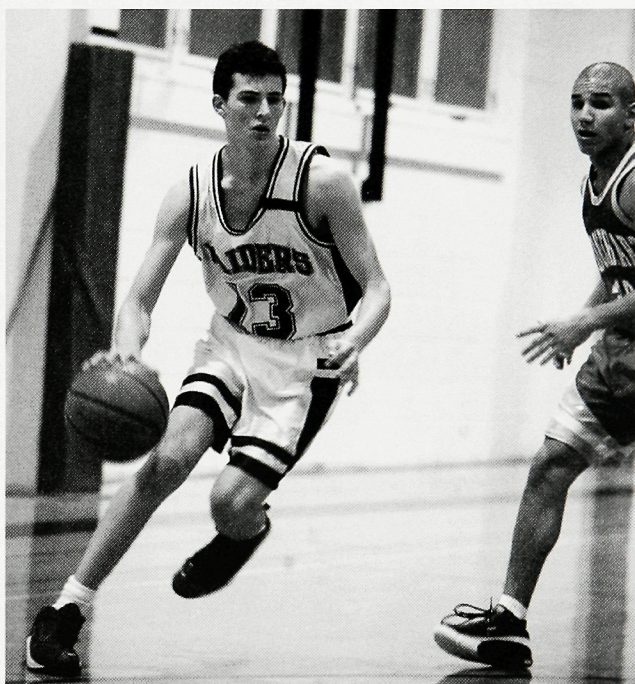

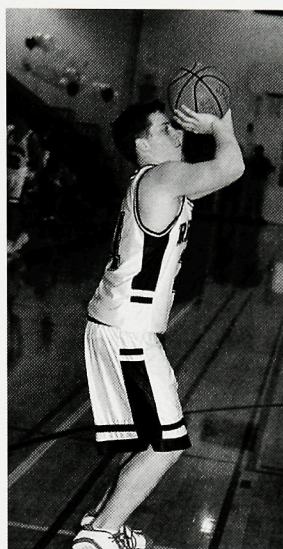

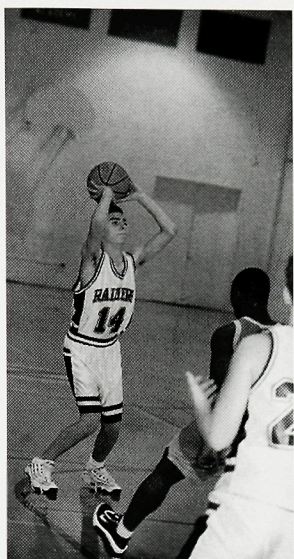

Upper School Boys Basketball had a fun season. There were some wins and losses, but the team learned to work with each other through them all. The best time was had at home games, where they was a lot of support from the North Shore community.

6th Grade

The sixth grade enjoyed the move up from lower school. Although it took some time to get used to, they settled into their new environment with ease.

Their favorite activities throughout the year included: outdoor ed, the banking unit in math, and making 3D cells in science.

Seventh Grade

Back row: Ben Horwitz, Ben Neithercut, Brian Malpede, Zara Klaff, Nico Gibson, Musab Siddiqui, Lydia Burnett, Noah Swartz, 2nd row: Caroline Boneham, Ben Tullman, Carey Martin, Ian Lowe, Kelsey Anderson, Mullery Doar, Max Verhey, Kate Keegan-Cook, Christine Perkins, Mr. Leesch; 3rd row: Ms. Bayer, Emily Kidd, Julia Cox, James Kinnaird, Christopher Callahan, Trisha Henry, Lili Ferguson, Tyler Whitmore; front row: Alexandra Land, Alexander Schorsch, Jordan Propp, Allison Morris, Robert Penzell, Grant McCullagh, Albert Price, Kelly Kr Priya Patel, Lauren Lowinger.

Seventh grade is an interdisciplinary, experiential program. It covers the content and skills of the specific academic disciplines and also encourages students to explore the interrelationships among all subject areas. Students participate in hands-on activities, field studies and student-initiated projects geared toward integrating their work in academics, technology and the arts.

Eighth Grade

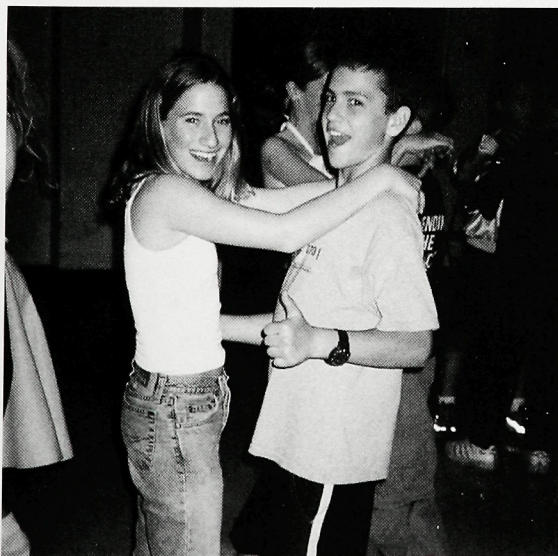

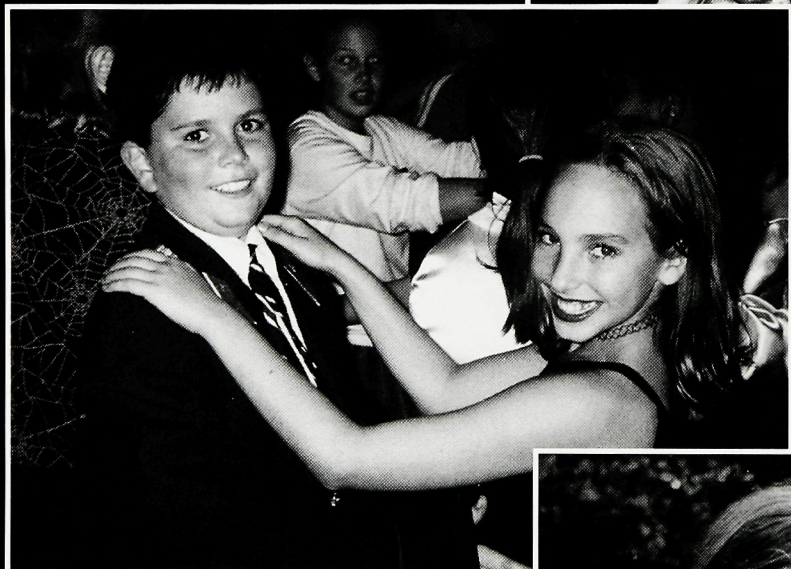

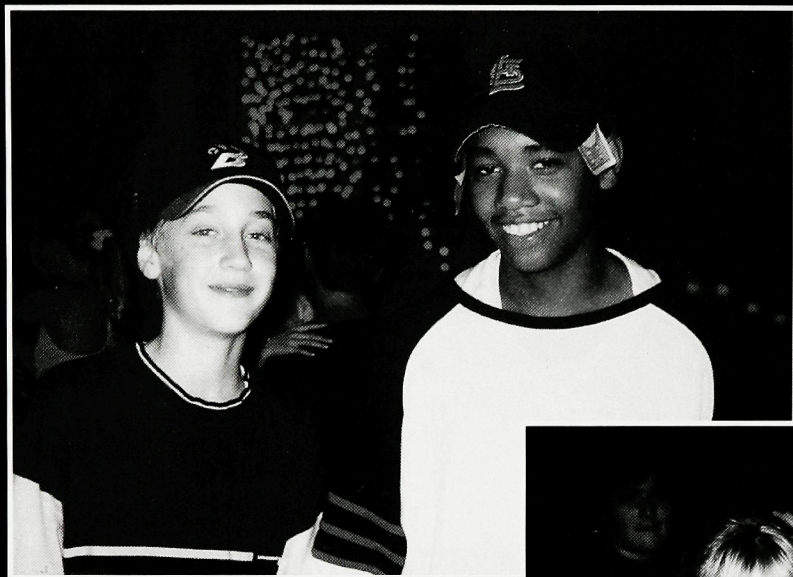

Back row: Stephan Lacombe, Ben Kegan, Robert Butz, Lanier Zimmer, Stuart Colman, Todd Searle, Dan Killian, Jeff Kim, Harley Hutchins;
3rd row: Georgia Rose, Sarah Finlay, Becky Lipson, Dan Kruger, Kayln Asplund, Ashleigh Cross, Billy Collins, Mr. Block; 2nd row: Patrick Hulseman,
Laura Uhler, Robert Eifler, Ashley Parker, William Galvin, Andy Vail

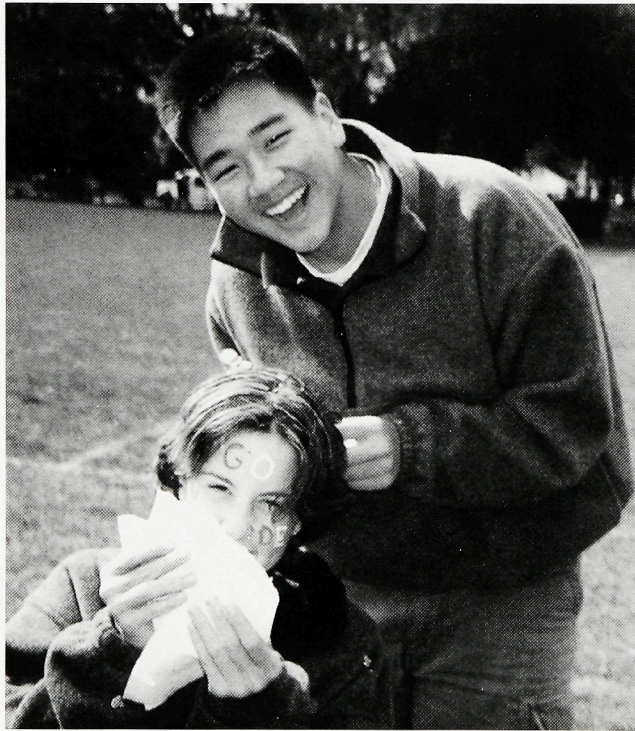

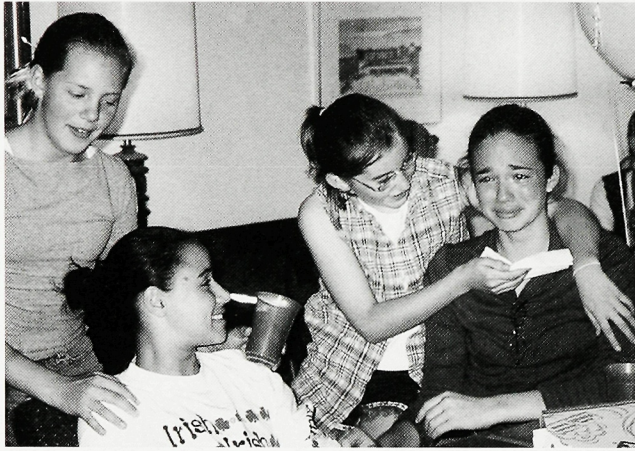

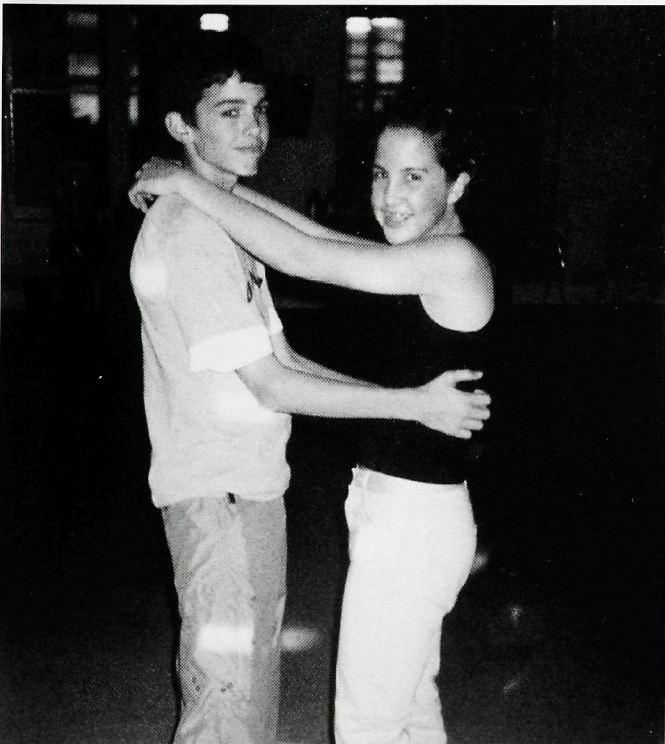

This year was an exciting one for the eighth grade. They participated in Outdoor Ed. at Camp Timberlee, the car wash, and the annual trip to Washington D.C. Throughout the year this class really bonded and became closer. Although this year was a blast for them, they look forward to being freshmen.

Ninth Grade

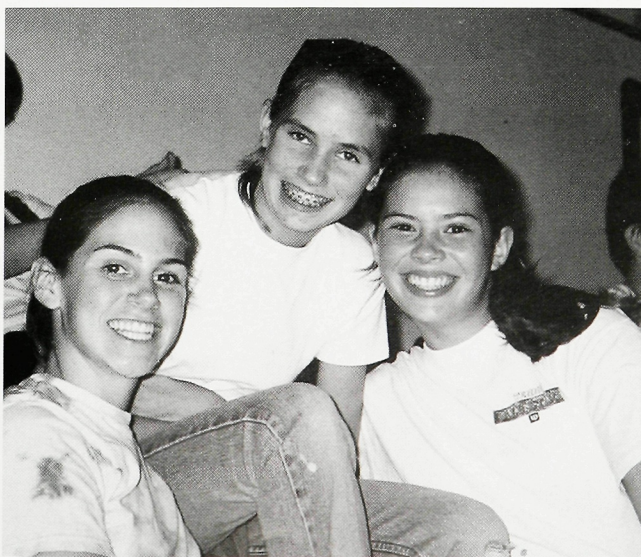

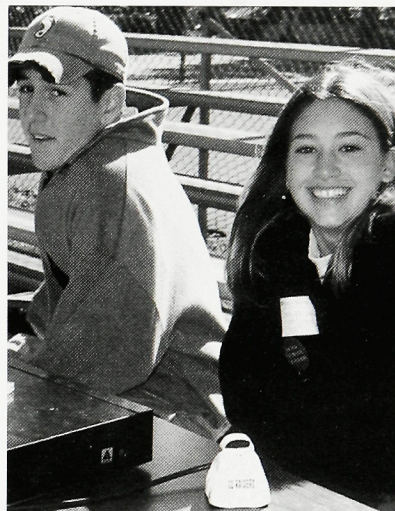

Back row: Amy McGregor, David Reitz, Ryan Randolph, Rebecca Lockhart, Ann Davis, Tim Powers, Tim Callahan, Mike McNitt, Fourth Row: Katie Szymanski, Jacob Ringer, Ben Bezark, Emily Herzberg, Alex Kerr, Charlie Swift, Joshua Kindler, Ned Walley, Wan Lee, Third Row: Kendall Wirtz, Michel Moreau, Rachel Cahan, Carolyn Figel, Conor McDowell, Edie McClenahan, Emi Neithercut, Nathan Fivecoate, Janet Schroeder, Carly Verhey, Jared Monschein, Second Row: Garrett Wulfsohn, Doug McClure, Quinnetta Bellows, Christyn Ambrose, Jessica Gerber, Laura Hansen, Christina Wilson, Max Dunn, Sarah Cody, Dillon Okner, Mr. Dachille, Front Row: Mrs. Friedman, Quinn Andersen, Aaron Swartz, Lizzy Lehman, Anne Levy, Maryann Gunaratnam, Kristina Mulder, Graham Gottlieb, Max Patinkin, Matt Downe

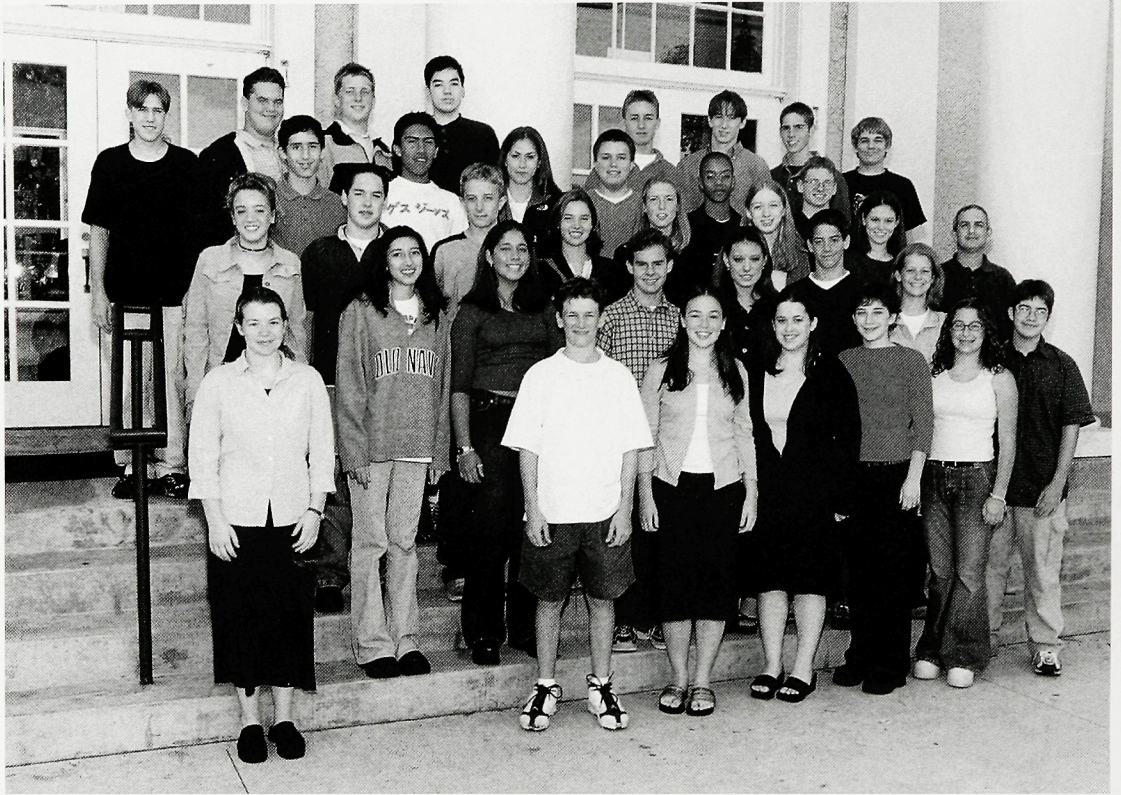

The ninth grade year started out with Outdoor-Ed and new student orientation. Our first field trip was to the Field Museum. The freshmen planned a winter dance that was a great success. We are all looking forward to our first Prom Dance. Our first year of Interim was exciting, and it was a great experience. All of the freshmen played great on the fall sports teams. We are all terrific contributors.

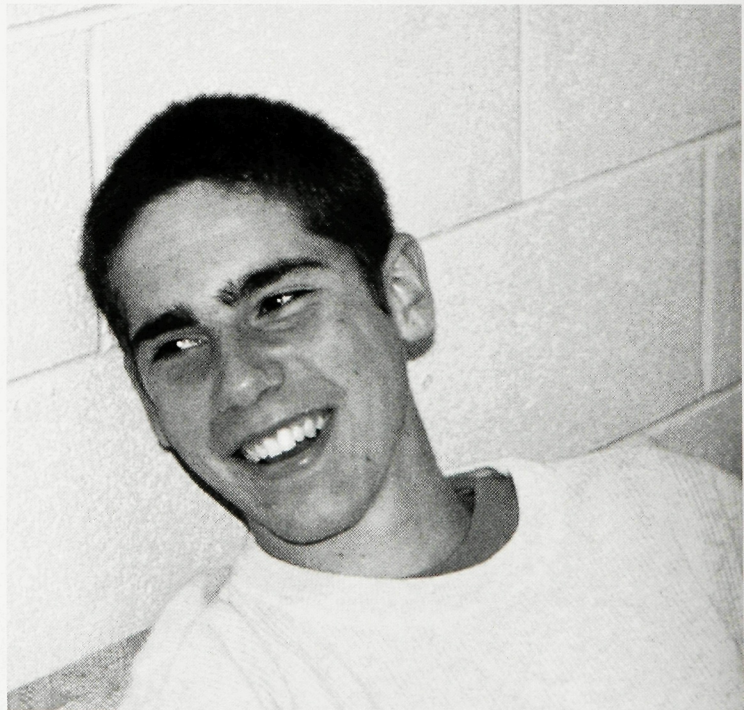

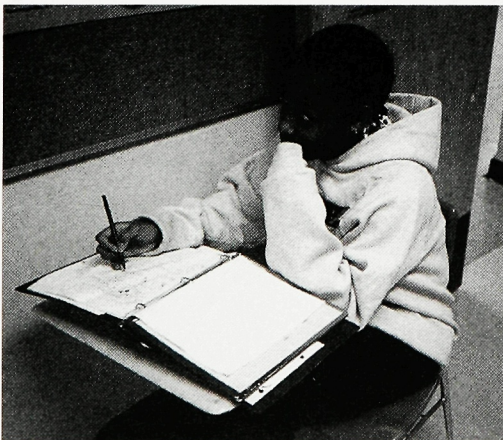

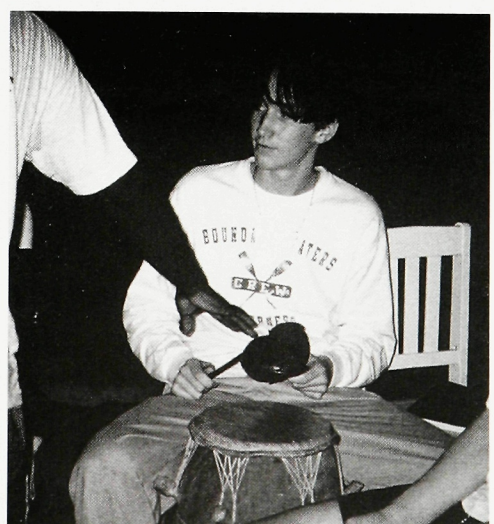

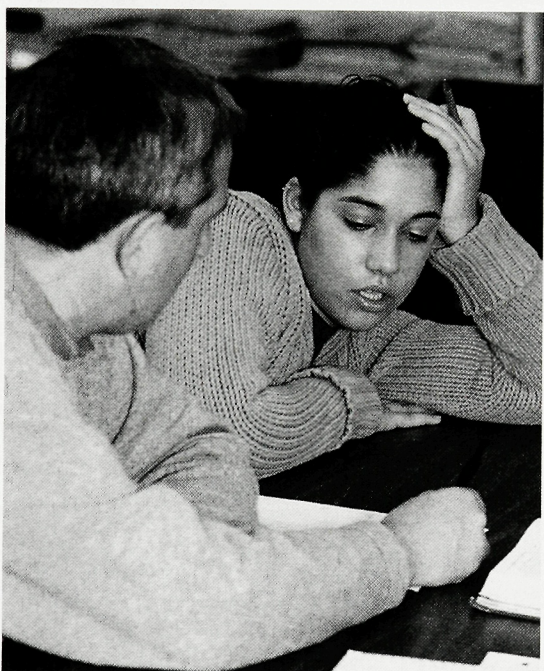

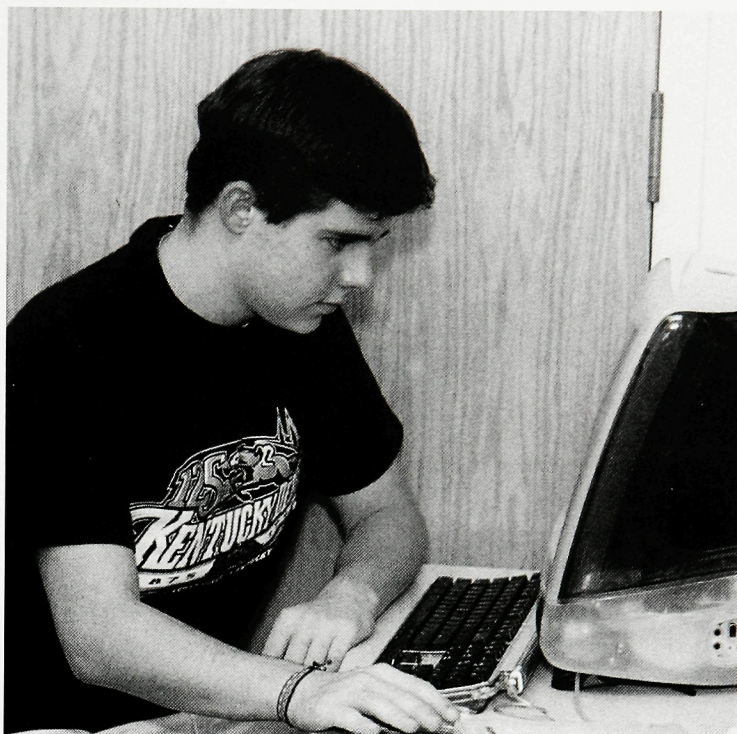

Tenth Grade

Top row: Andy Hazlett, Ross Blumenfeld, Jeff Thomas, Ross Matsuda, Danny Murphy, Nick Whalley, Andrew Hill, Steve Cooperman;
 2nd row: Luke Strauss, Mirshall Vite, Carly Gerstman, Jamie Vail, Seyamack Afzali, Henry Gaud; 3rd row: Elyse McKay, Will Foley, Justin Rheinfank,
 Molly Whiteman, Kristin Rooney, Hannah Fenley, Katy Costello, Mr. Poholsky; 4th row: Gaby Jimenez, Brielle Collins, Henry Webster, Carol Legg,
 Aaron Morris, Abby Smith; front row: Ms. Pedisich, Charlie Doar, Laura Harris, Sara Bernstein, Sarah Blenner, Erica Kruger, Michael Halper

The tenth grade really enjoyed not being freshmen. They welcomed many new students into their class and teachers to the school. They liked participating in community service, especially when they did work at the Jonquil Hotel. This class looks forward to being upperclassmen next year.

Back row: Peter George, Brendan Leonard, Jake Rheinfrank, Tony Collins, Matt Ozmun, Anand Patel, Robert Rex-Waller, Eric Alexander, D. J. Hageman, Mr. Trainer; 2nd row: Brian Cagan, Stan Gray, Joyce Randall, Mickeeya Murray, Emina Duzo, Nate Flint, Evan Birnholz, Lee Flayton, Brian Jessen, Robbie Bonow, Mr. Skalinder; 3rd row: Steve Jablonski, Jordan Fisher, Eva Kasakova, Dorian Daniels, Emily Yates, Lauren Siegel, Lydia Uhler, Benjy Blenner, Frieda Bauer, Jamie Powers, Tony Zwain, Christine Offutt, Noah Furman, Emily Breece, Christine Castilla; front row: Mrs. Katbab, Pat Siegel, Emily Fitzgerald, Naomi Hattori, Ciera Simmons, Katie Bearman, Katie Rooney, Vicky Syal, Andrea Livolsi, Geoffry Marcus, Peter Fine

This was a difficult year for the eleventh grade. Whether it was family history, the bridge project, or just the amount of homework, every junior was overwhelmed at one point. All that aside, every junior did manage to have fun. They enjoyed organizing the prom and their new off campus privileges. This year was fun, and they look forward to being seniors.

The senior class had a great time this year that was filled with lots of special memories. Many of the seniors enjoyed being the heads of clubs, doing community service, and serving as captains on the sports teams. Once the seniors got beyond the stress of college essays and getting accepted to college, they seemed to relax and have fun. This year's class was a great one, and they will be missed next year. Good Luck Seniors!

Lifers

Tori Cavanaugh, Leigh Cross, Jackie Siegel, and Talia Ullmann

The four lifers this year are Tori Cavanaugh, Leigh Cross, Jackie Siegel, and Talia Ullmann. The four of us have been together for fourteen long years and have gone through a lot together. We have seen many changes in the school, including four different heads of school, a new library, and so many other little things. We all have had friends leave and come, but the four of us have stuck together. We are all ready to move on to college, but we will never forget the fourteen years we have spent together.

Exchange Students

There were four exchange students this year from countries that ranged from France to Thailand. Marie Geradin, from France, was in the senior class. Also in the senior class was Taro Pruittisart, from Thailand. The two other exchange students were in the junior class. They were Freida Bauer, from Germany, and Eva Stocklasova, from Slovakia. The four exchange students conquered English and became a viable part to the North Shore community. They took part in many activities, clubs and sports. Next year they will all be missed.

Editors' Notes

It has been a long, tough, year working on the yearbook. It is really nice to have a finished product. Although I spent many hours on it, and it caused me some stressful days, I am very proud to have lead it. Even though I got frustrated with my staff, they really did a lot. I would like to thank Andrea for caring a lot about the yearbook. Andrea, you really gave great ideas and even though we could not incorporate most of them, I hope you can use them next year. I would like to thank Krista for really help taking the pictures. Even though I felt sometimes you had no idea what things were going on, you really did a lot. I am very appreciative of everything you did; you did worked and you always cared about the yearbook. I would like to thank Christine and Naomi for getting all their work done; thanks for getting it done on time and keeping my job a little less stressful. I would also like to thank Mr. Smith; you gave me so many picutres and your vision for the yearbook let me look at it in a different way. Thank you Mrs. Lockhart for all the picutres; every year you probably donate 25% of the photos in the yearbook. Thank you Mrs. Grauberger, for being a great advisor; you were always considerate to me when I knew you had to be worrying about whether or not the yearbook would get finished, you were a great liason between teachers, and thanks for collecting photos. I would also like to thank Mme. Wollin; you were always willing to help me, and you completely understood what I was going through. For a final thanks, I would like to thank every one who helped or even just offered to help me through my stress. I think that is it. Even though I don't know who will run the yearbook next year, good luck. And some advice is to start early and get as many people involved as you can. Finally, to any one who made it through this long speech of mine, thanks for caring what I thought. Yeah it is finished!

It's amazing how much can be accomplished when so many people participate in the yearbook. I must admit that at first I was a little hesitant about all the deadlines getting met. But, in the end everything turned out okay. This year's yearbook would be blank if it weren't for Tori Cavanaugh. She was great in organizing everything. Everyone holding this book owes her many thanks!

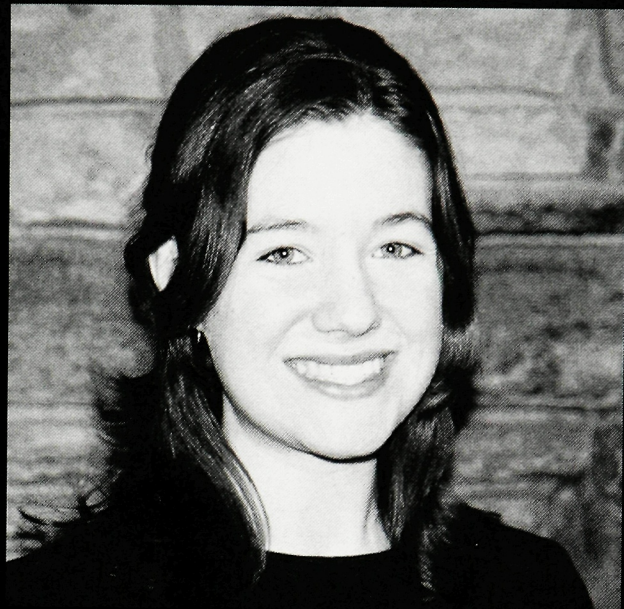

- Krista

One of the hardest parts about my position as photo editor was encouraging people to join the staff and take on assignments. Everyone who took pictures contributed to the yearbook's success and made my job easier. I'd like to thank the photography staff; Luke Strauss, Molly Whiteman, Meera Sinha, Kristine Offutt, Gaby Jimenez, Jamie Powers, Frieda Bauer, and Emily Yates. I'd also like to thank Mr. Smith for taking a large bulk of the pictures, as well as Mrs. Lockhart and Mrs. Yates for all their help with the sports teams. Last, but not least, my co-editor Krista Jablonski who was really easy and fun to work with. Krista, I appreciate all the effort and time you put in. I will miss you next year and wish you lots of luck in college. I hope everyone on the staff returns next year and that we're joined by lots of newcomers.

Some days are good. Some days are not so good. Respect yourself. Be what you feel. Respect others, they have much to give. Define your dreams, believe in them, and they will become what is real. Have fun. Life is now.

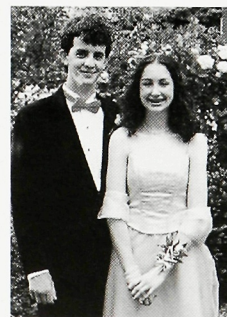

The joy of life is made up of obscure and seemingly mundane victories that give us our own small satisfactions.

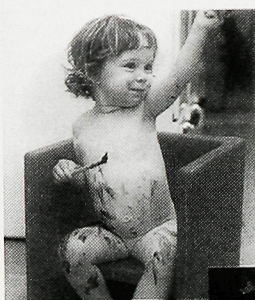

I get by with a little help from my friends.

Don't let anyone tell you that you have to be a certain way. Be unique. Be what you feel.

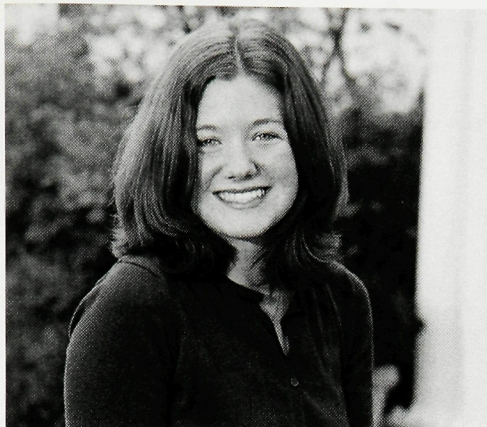

Enjoy who you are. Don't hate yourself for who you aren't.

Who I am today has been shaped by so many people. Thank you to my mom and dad, Emilie, Raphe, and Lizzie, you are who I will always come home to. To my friends from NSCD and around the world. I love you all: J.S., A.E., A.W., L.C., M.W., to name a few. Hey, girls: We've made it. Liz, never forget that I love you. (And I'm spent!) To my friends from Honduras you are always a part of my heart. Thank you to my teachers for helping me to grow, think, question and challenge. Thanks to my friends for allowing me to change, and loving me just the same. Emilie you are the most amazing and wonderful person I know. Raphe, I couldn't ask for a cooler bro. Mom, you are the strongest person in the world. Dad, thanks for your sage and gentle words. For everyone who has helped me to become who I am, thanks.

ELIZABETH HOREVITZ

For my friends, a group of people I will never forget and forever hold in my heart as those special people who stuck with me through thick and thin. We have laughed, cried, fought, made-up and grown up together. Through it all you have remained the best friends I could ever ask for.

Over the years, Thank G-d, I have enjoyed very much being at North Shore. And more than simply enjoying it, I actually have looked forward to going to school each day, something very few people can say. Then, during the summer following tenth grade, I was able to work downtown at an architectural firm, but more than that, I got to meet and spend time with the Jewish community of the Loop and Lincoln Park, and their incredible teacher, Rabbi Benhiyoun. That summer only served to reinforce and deepen every interest I had in Judaism, and to emphasize the fact that a person must integrate every aspect of life until division literally does not exist. That in mind, I had serious questions about the acceptability of attending a non-Jewish school, and, indeed, hoped to leave North Shore. When that possibility finally started to materialize, I wrote a letter to the Rebbe (pictured above) asking if I should stay at North Shore or transfer to a Jewish School. Upon inserting my letter randomly into a book of the Rebbe's letters, I opened to a letter from the Rebbe which was dated the same day that I had written my letter, and which opened with the phrase "In response to your question about switching places..."

Obviously, the letter, although first written by the Rebbe nearly thirty years ago, was intended for me. It proceeded to state clearly that I should have no doubts whatsoever about returning to my old place; moreover, there wasn't even any question to begin this that returning was the proper thing to do. Somewhat surprised, I stayed at North Shore. The point is that things need to be integrated without being compromised—G-d lives at North Shore as much as at a Jewish school. Integration without compromise is what we need to have in mind during these times. This generation has a very big opportunity—and will certainly take advantage of it.

Congrats!

There is no way I could ever thank everyone here at this school for everything... But I'm still going to try ☺. I won't pretend that I was all too happy to come here, but these past few years have been some of the hardest and most valuable. Thank you for helping me through everything, for letting me cry and miss everyone in Israel - and then for letting me change my mind in the end & decide that I might not want to leave so soon. Thank you for dragging me out of the house, for being completely lovable fools, for driving me home when my house was so far out of the way, for not waiting away or hanging up when I couldn't stop thinking about & dwelling on the past, for laughing when I took life too seriously, for saying hi in the halls on random days when nothing seemed to go right, for teaching me what a volleyball is, for editing excessively long papers, for listening to the same story a hundred times over, for helping me remember how important friends are, for smiling through all the stress, for being a great brother, mother, Korean sister, confident, teammate, classmate,

What was I looking at? I don't know, don't ask me... ^_^

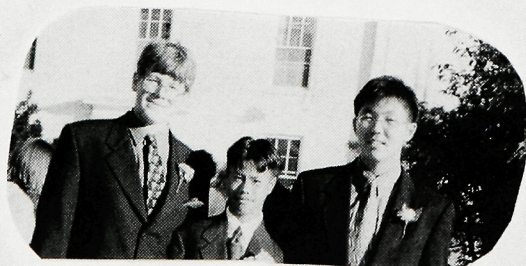

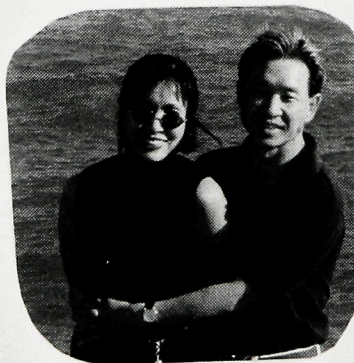

I thank my loving parents for sending me to NSCDS. It has been very nice(^_^;) learning here. I also like to thank Those who helped me throughout the year. Nick Fera, the one who believes that he is righteous and also the co-creator of the word MUV (what does this mean? I would, but I'm not going to cuz if I write the definition, I will get into very very big problem. (Now you have an idea what it means?)) I also like to thank all my other friends, Seong, Bassam, Nathan, PJ, Chris, Mike, etc. Also I want to thank those who were 8th graders with me. Andrew Syfu (the coolest kid I've ever met), and Gresh (funny dude), Jimmy, Brian, Rodrey(spell check? SOR-RY!), Ben, Scott, etc. Finally, I would like to thank all the faculties who taught me. I learned loads of stuff here. My advisor, Mr. Dachille, I thank you for being such a cool advisor for four year. Uh...I'm gonna stop here cuz I can't feel my finger anymore.

After a while you learn the subtle difference
Between holding a hand and changing a soul,
And you learn that love doesn't mean learning
And company doesn't mean security,
And you begin to learn that kisses aren't contracts
And presents aren't promises,
And you begin to accept your defeats
With your head up and your eyes open
With the grace of a woman, not the grief of a child,
And you learn to build all your roads on today
Because tomorrows ground is too uncertain for plans.
And futures have a way of falling down in mid-flight.

After a while you learn
That even sunshine burns if you get too much.
So you plant your own garden and decorate your own soul,
Instead of waiting for someone to bring you flowers.
And you learn that you really can endure,
That you really are strong,
And you really do have worth.
And you learn,
With every goodbye you learn.

Mom: I cannot sum up everything that I feel for you and what you have done for me. I have grown so much because of you and dad. I am who I am today because of you...so, thanks. Thanks for everything you have done for me, I know I will never forget it. I love you.

Dad: You have always been there for me when I needed you. You have also made me who I am. "Only a dad, but he gives his all, to smooth the way for his children small... This is the line that for him I pen: only a dad, but the best of men." I will always be your Brown-eyed girl. I love you dad.

North: I will forever cherish our long talks, our drawn-out fights, and all those times you made me laugh. You are all that I have ever asked for in a friend and in a brother. I love you.

Sara: My favorite sister. You have always meant the world to me. "Chance made us sisters. Hearts made us friends." Thanks for everything, I love you.

William: My little car wah buddy, what would I do without you? Just know that I will always be there for you. Keep your wild streak, but just not too wild. I love you.

Jane: Hi-de-ho! I want to thank you for listening to me, and always making me laugh. "Clear the highway,... put on your feet... Matilda Orangeblossom..." I love you.

JK: "You're just too good to be true. Can't take my eyes off of you..." My baby, I am so glad we are together, because you truly mean the world to me. "No aggravation we can't get through a situation for the lucky few and everyday is just a little more time together to be happy for. I'm happy even when the times are rough. 'Cause any time with you is good enough." Please remember that "you will always be my baby."

My roommate for two years, and a great friend- a friend for life. I love you babe.

Kate: Hi Katon. I definitely miss our fights, and of course pupu kitty. Never forget what we have and what we share. I love you so much. Emily: Pappy, my little sweetheart. I miss your hugs and your wonderful smile. Stay cute.

I love you all so much, we will forever be friends.

AAB: I cannot believe how fast the years have gone by. I want you to know that you are one of the most compassionate and genuine people I've met and I am so fortunate to have you as a friend. "Only when I grew to love you did I understand the relativity of time; then, I wished to embrace you forever, hoping that eternity would last just a few minutes more." I love you Lex.

HAW: I love you for who you are and all that you have become. "We were children in our place, with the world beneath our feet, growing up was on our faces, I remember you're so sweet. And the longer I remember, you're the hardest to forget."

EOH & AIH: "I always knew looking back at our tears would some day make us laugh, but I never knew looking back at our laughter would some day make us cry." I wouldn't have had such a great past two years without my two moms. I love you both so much.

LDC: "We're there for each other and care for each other, like only the closest of friends do. At the heart of my life, in the heart of my heart, my sweet friend, there will always be you." Thanks for truly always being there. I love you.

To Abby with love
from Dad, Mom, Andy and Fluffy!

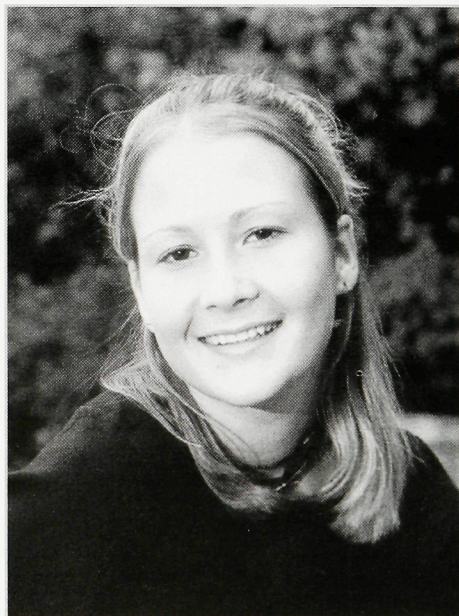

Dearst Ashley,

How is it that our first born child is now ready to graduate from high school and move on to college? When did you stop being the little girl who had to have red sparkle party shoes, feather boas, leather mini skirts and skin-tight leggings? When did you stop needing your mom to come to school to brush your hair because it had a lump in the back? when did the Barbie's and American Girl dolls get replaced with c.d.'s and Dawson's Creek? Do you remember in first grade telling us that your dog Razz 2 picked up the expensive Chinese bowl, dropped it and swept it under the sofa with his paw? When did you become so forthright, honest; someone we could always depend on? When did you, our shy observer from the sidelines, become a risk taker; challenging yourself to back-pack throughout the Four Corners, to hike the Hawaiian Z trail, to rock climb the Montana cliffs, to survive and thrive in Ecuador during a national strike and last summer to live on your own in the Dominican Republic so you could help others? Ashley, you have grown from an adorable infant to a glorious adult. Your strength of character, your sense of fairness, your willingness to stand firm in your beliefs, your kind and compassionate heart make your inward beauty just as stunning as your outward beauty. Do you know how proud we are of you Ash, Bones, Boo, Bash, our brown-eyed girl? we love you "infinity!"
